

University of South Alabama
Program Director, Ultrasound
Faculty Rank – Instructor or Senior Instructor

The Department of Radiologic Sciences at the University of South Alabama is seeking candidates for a 12-month, full-time non-tenure track appointment at the rank of Instructor or Senior Instructor. The faculty position involves didactic and clinical education and is integral in the support of the Ultrasound Program and its accreditation. The successful candidate will work alongside other faculty in the Department of Radiologic Sciences to promote the mission and vision of the department. As sole faculty of the Ultrasound Program, the Program Director will provide instruction for the didactic curriculum, provide oversight of the clinical curriculum, and maintain, assess and interpret data gathered during the academic year for the annual report to both the college and the Joint Review Committee on Education in Diagnostic Medical Sonography (JRCDMS). The Program Director is also responsible for maintaining JRCDMS standards and all documentation related to this. Expectations include participation in standing departmental committees and conduct of scholarly activities consistent with the goals of the department, college, and university.

Applicants for the rank of Instructor must have a Master's degree in a related field, must be registered with the American Registry of Diagnostic Medical Sonographers with multiple certifications, and a minimum of 3 years clinical experience. A doctoral degree, 2 years teaching experience, and experience as a Program Director is preferred.

To be considered for the rank of Senior Instructor, the applicant must have a minimum of 7 years, full-time teaching experience in an accredited program, ARRT certification in radiography, ARDMS registration in a minimum of four areas, experience as a Program Director, and demonstrate active participation in professional organizations.

The University of South Alabama is located on the beautiful Gulf Coast of Alabama just an hour's drive to Florida and Mississippi and about two hours east of New Orleans, Louisiana. Mobile is a large city with a small town feel and an abundance of southern hospitality. The USA Department of Radiologic Sciences, housed within the Pat Capps Covey of Allied Health Professions, was established in 1976 and awards a Bachelor's Degree in Radiologic Sciences after 24 months of both didactic and clinical coursework.

For more about the Department of Radiologic Sciences at the University of South Alabama, please visit the website: <https://www.southalabama.edu/colleges/alliedhealth/radiologicsscience/>

Review of applications will begin immediately. The position will be filled as soon as possible. Each applicant should submit a cover letter of interest, curriculum vitae, the names of three references, and a statement of teaching philosophy and research interests via email to:

Jacob Manning
Search Committee Chairperson jmanning@southalabama.edu Ph: 251-445-9346

The University of South Alabama is an EO/AA employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression), religion, age, genetic information, disability, protected veteran status or any other applicable legally protected status.